FANWOOD

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the New York School for the Deaf was held at the Board Room of the City Bank Farmers Trust Co., 22 William Street, at 2 p.m., on Wednesday, October 14th, 1936. The following members were present: Major Landon, President; Messrs. Joseph R. Barr, Dr. Louis F. Bishop, Sr., Winthrop G. Brown, Laurent C. Deming, F. A. de Peyster, William W. Hoffman, Philip Hiss, Robert McC. Marsh, John D. Peabody, E. P. Pearson, Arden M. Robbins and John S. Rogers; also Superintendent Skyberg and Steward Davis.

The weekly Student Organization meeting was held on Monday evening, October 19th, in the chapel. The Entertainment Committee discussed the Hallowe'en party to be held at our School, at which time the Lexington School for the Deaf will be our guests. The organization, which will sponsor a newspaper by the students, discussed the plans for the initial issue to be edited shortly. Other business pertaining to the good and welfare of the organization were discussed at length.

The football squad, under the supervision of Coaches Gamblin and Tainsly, will leave for Hartford, Conn., on Saturday morning, October 24th, by bus. After the game against the American School team, there will be a formal ball at the Hotel Bond, at which the two teams and coaches will be entertained.

In preparation for the game, practice has been scheduled so that the team will not lack the necessary work to put them on the best edge.

On Friday, October 16th, the powerful Horace Mann Preparatory School turned back our eleven in a game that was all Horace Mann. Adding to their two touchdowns in the first period, the game saw them average a point a minute as we vainly fought to stem the onrush.

Though bigger in size and older in experience, Horace Mann had to virtually fight for every point, not for one second did our boys stop charging and our backs stop riding high.

For years our opponents have been the top-ranking private school team in the East, and Coach Tewhill's squad again seems in line for similar honors.

For our team, Jerry Durso and Alex. Mangiacapra provided the offensive threats, and put on a whale of a battle, despite the ever onrush of the Horace Mann forward wall. Simon Hovanec was by far the best defensive man on the field. Gallantly rushing into the fray, he made tackle after tackle and was a thorn in our adversaries' side all day. Horowitz also provided us with defensive power by displaying a heady game. In passing it must be added in tribute to the team, that even when the going was toughest they displayed a type of sportsmanship that brought plaudits from the spectators and officials. Not once during the encounter were they so much as penalized for even an off-side. The starting line-up:

HORACE MANN

Crozier	i.e.	Hovanec (Capt)
Ricetson	i.t.	Haviluk
Davis	i.g.	Black
Pagano (Capt)	c	Stoller
Hollis	r.g.	Horowitz
Pope	r.t.	Tierney
Wennerholm	r.e.	Riecke
Beckman	q.b.	Durso
Nash	I.h.b.	Hughes
Kubie	r.h.b.	Stupfer
Horton	f.b.	Mangiacapra

BOY SCOUTS

On October 11th, Troop 711 had its first hike of the Fall. The weather was fine for hiking. The scouts walked across the George Washington Bridge to the Palisades Interstate Park. Near the "Riviera," a famous night club, on the cliffs, there was a steep flight of stairs, which they took, to the shore trail. On looking down from the top one can get dizzy, due to the great height. When they reached the trail, they went on up along the Hudson River. Many yachts were seen, moored to the docks, at the Englewood Yacht Basin. As they hiked along they noticed the changing hues of the fall leaves on the trees.

After walking for some time, a camp was made on the shore and all the scouts hustled about, bringing in wood for the campfire. Then some scouts tried to build a fire for their "Fire-building" test. Scout M. Schissel was the only one who successfully built a fire, using two matches only. Time out was called for dinner and games were played afterwards. As darkness was coming on, a huge campfire was built. The scouts had several cups of hot chocolate before sitting around the fire. Songs were sung, "Three Blue Birds Sitting in a Tree" and "Row Your Boat." Cubmaster K. Greenberg told an interesting story. Frankfurters and marshmallows were handed out and roasted over the fire.

Soon it was time to turn back, so the fire was put out. The packs were slung to the shoulders and the trek back was on. The night was dark without a moon, but the scouts walked back without any flashlights. The Dyckman St. Ferry was taken back to New York, from where they took the Independent Subway to Fanwood. Scoutmaster I. Greenwald was in charge with A. S. M. David Balacaier assisting him.

CUB PACK 14

Last Monday, October 12th, Cub Pack 14 took advantage of the holiday by joining the influx of hikers to Palisades Park. It was fair and cool weather. The cubs, with Cubmaster Greenberg, crossed George Washington Bridge, and they were thrilled at the sight of the gigantic framework. Then the Pack strolled up a trail along the river leisurely. A suitable place was selected for eating and playing after three miles of hiking. The boys helped themselves picking sticks for making a fire, and they roasted frankfurters and marshmallows. Some Boy Scouts of Troop 70 joined the party, and they were treated with some cocoa. Games were played. Leaving the park, the Pack took a different route. They crossed the river on a ferry boat to Dyckman Street. Then the party continued trudging on Riverside Drive. Due to the invigorating autumn air, they tried hard, and finally arrived back at school. Both routes covered six miles.

New York State

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jenkins entertained at a surprise birthday party on October 10th, for Mrs. Jesse Merrithew at their home in Lake George. The guests were former schoolmates at Malone. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hudson, Robert Oddey, Raymond Fleming, Wilbur Youett, Raymond McDougall, Jennie Morehouse, Charles Gale and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Merrithew.

Mrs. Glenn Stanton has been visiting her husband at Hunter, N. Y., where he recently secured a printing job. They are planning to move in the spring.

NEW YORK CITY

H. A. D.

Once again after four months of silence, the Temple Beth-El welcomes the sound of hasty footsteps, merry laughter and the fluttering of many eager hands.

Last Sunday afternoon inaugurated the opening regular business meeting of the Hebrew Association of the Deaf, and the attendance was unusually very large. Before proceeding with the ordinary business, President Mulfeld announced with deep regret the passing away last summer of Max Miller, one of the "pillars," first secretary (1907) and ex-President of the H. A. D. The members then rose and observed silence for a few moments in a token of respect for the memory of the deceased gentleman. Various announcements were made, including that of a theatrical presentation at the headquarters of the H. A. D., on East 76th Street near Fifth Avenue, on Wednesday evening, November 11th (Armistice Day), given by the W. P. A. It is free, and the members and their friends are invited. If the attendance at this show is very satisfactory, the same will be given every second Wednesday of the month.

The members and their friends are reminded of the opening regular Friday evening services and special memorial services for the late Max Miller, which will be held on the 23d. This will be followed with the unveiling of a memorial tablet to departed members of the H. A. D. This was made possible through the recent annual new year donations.

The Jooss European Ballet from England was in town last Saturday, and in the evening at Alvin Theatre on West 52nd Street, twenty cultured deaf people saw this well-known ballet. The featured number of the program was "Green Table." It is a choreographic picture of war, providing a vividly realistic commentary on the destructive forces of war. Other numbers were "The Big City," "Ballade," and "A Ball in Old Vienna."

The ballet is a combination of music, dancing and pantomime. It takes its origin in the pantomimic performances of ancient Rome.

Among the ballet-goers were Mr. and Mrs. D. Morrill, Mr. and Mrs. J. Schapira, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kruger; Mesdames Marks, J. Worzel, H. Peters, M. Kaminsky and C. Golden; Messrs. F. Ascher, E. Bloom, Jr., C. Joselow, K. Greenberg, L. Goldwasser, V. Mazur, S. Liebman, J. Miller, and M. Oppenheim.

There was a dinner party in the Hotel Esplanade on West End Avenue and 74th Street, in honor of the recent wedding of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hummell, Jr., on Saturday evening, September 26th. Mrs. Samuel Frankenheim was in charge of the affair and issued invitations to their intimate friends, among whom were: Mr. Frankenheim, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Reilly Dobbins of Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Jaffe, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin C. Tresscott, of Bound Brook, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henry of East Orange, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Julius Aaron of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Carmine W. Pace of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stein, Miss Dorothy C. Havens, Mrs. Florence M. Ward and Mrs. Edna B. Loew; Messrs. Keith Morris, John A. Roach of Olney, Pa., William Bailey, Vito Don Diego of Trenton, and Randall McClelland of Mountain View, N. J.

The dinner was an excellent repast, interspersed with red and white champagne and ended with cordials. Everybody was in high spirits and the bridal couple were humming with smiles and blushes as several of the guests addressed the assemblage with witty remarks. Moving pictures by photo electric lights was taken of the group at the table. Mr. Stein and Mr. Henry were the manipulators. The party broke up at ten and most of them went to the Frankenheim apartment, two blocks away, and made merry till past midnight.

Mr. Charles J. Le Clercq of San Francisco, and his bride, formerly Miss Cora Hitesman of the Golden Gate City, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frankenheim at dinner with Mrs. Edna B. Loew, who used to live in Los Angeles until the death of her husband.

In the evening, many friends called to greet the LeClercs and among them were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Bachrach, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bramson, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kohn, Mesdames Florence Ward, Ada Kees of Minneapolis, and Gertrude Kent; Messrs. William Bailey, Ben de Castro of Panama City, Panama, Marx Levy of Kearny, N. J., and Miss Clara Breese of Eatontown, N. J.

The quarterly meeting of Greater New York Branch, N. A. D., will be held at New York University (School of Education) 100 Washington Square, East, Room 703, Tuesday evening, October 27th, at 8 p.m. To reach the place take Lexington subway local to Astor Place, B.M.T. to 8th Street (Waverly Pl. exit), 7th Avenue subway to Christopher Street.

The beloved father of Mr. Raymond McCarthy, passed away on October 10th, at 2 p.m. Mr. John J. McCarthy was a Spanish-American and World War Veteran. He was dressed in his soldier's uniform and was buried with full military honors.

Miss Ruth Yeager of the Hispanic Museum is now taking up a course in Spanish at Columbia University every Tuesday and Friday evening.

Lexington School Notes

Malvine Fischer, Reporter

The Lexington School has been fortunate enough to receive an allotment of federal funds to be used for repairs and improvements, to be carried out by the W. P. A.

Two important pieces of construction will be a solarium on the roof over the hospital, and a glass-roofed gymnasium in the court yard.

Maple flooring will be laid in those places and in all other rooms where the old flooring still remains. All other floors will be scraped and refinished.

In the plumbing and heating line, old bathrooms will be remodeled, new bathrooms and a hot water tank will be installed and eighty new radiators put in.

The outside brickwork will be pointed and cleaned. The windows will be metal weather-stripped. The water tanks are going to be repaired and then painted. The exterior grounds will be landscaped.

Electrical fixtures will be replaced where needed. Plastering will be repaired. The old gym, which is now being used as a W.P.A. workroom, is going to be remodeled into a game room.

The painting of the interior of the building, which was temporarily halted during the vacation, will be completed.

Our building will be quite modern and up-to-date when the work is finished.

MINNESOTA

News items for this column, and subscriptions, should be sent to Wesley Lauritsen, School for the Deaf, Faribault, Minnesota.

A beautiful bronze plaque has just been placed on the James Lewis Smith Memorial Pillars at the Fifth Avenue entrance to the Minnesota School for the Deaf. The inscription on the plaque read:

IN HONOR OF
JAMES LEWIS SMITH
A TEACHER IN THIS SCHOOL FROM
1885 to 1935
ERECTED BY THE FACULTY OF 1935

This is an appropriate honor to the Grand Old Man of Minnesota's Deafdom, who served his Alma Mater faithfully for a half century.

An outstanding player on the Gopher School football team is George Pehlgrim, who eighteen years ago weighed two and one half pounds. Today he is a six-footer, tipping the scales at 157 pounds.

Allen Lowell Peterson, a pupil of the ninth grade at the Minnesota School, is one of the most remarkable penmen we have ever met. He is able to duplicate almost any signature is required on a larger number to prove that the signature was not genuine. A busy man whose signature is required on a larger number of checks, or other matter, would do well to employ Allen.

Miss Josephine Ressler, popular young beauty culture teacher at the Minnesota School, often spends the week-end at her parental home in Owatonna, fifteen miles south of Faribault.

In a recent issue we wrote of Minnesota's wonder deaf-blind man, John Lauby. Minnesota has an equally famous deaf-blind woman, virtually a second Helen Keller. She is Vera Mabel Gammon, of St. Paul, who was taught by Blanche Hansen, a graduate of the Minnesota School and of Gallaudet College. Vera lost both her sight and hearing at the age of four, but was ten before she entered the Minnesota School, where she took the full course, graduating with honor. She says she keeps her light of knowledge burning by reading several good magazines embossed in Braille. It is evident that time does not hang heavily on her hands for she crotches, knits, and sews. Some of her fancy work has won prizes at the Minnesota State Fairs. She has a remarkable memory, and one familiar with the sign-language will find pleasure and profit in conversing with her.

At present there are two deaf-blind girls in attendance at the Minnesota School. Little Betty Jane Rinsem, of Faribault, has been in attendance for three years. We met her on the campus the other morning after the long three-and-one half month vacation, and the little tot recognized us instantly. Under the instruction of Miss Lillian Huset she is learning to read by the Braille system. The other girl is Priscilla Houle, who is also Miss Huset's pupil.

MINNESOTA 7, WISCONSIN 0

The Minnesota School for the Deaf Golden Gophers defeated a fighting Wisconsin School for the Deaf eleven, 7 to 0, in a hard fought game on a wet and cold field at Delavan, on Saturday afternoon, October 10th, before a large homecoming crowd.

The winning touchdown came in the second period when Myklebust passed the oval to his co-captain, blonde Larry Koziol, on the Wisconsin forty yard line, Larry making a perfect catch, after which he trotted through the Wisconsin line and over the Wisconsin goal for the first and only touchdown of the game.

Wisconsin kicked off, Koziol receiving on the Minnesota 25-yard marker, from whence he carried the pigskin to the Gopher 45-yard stripe. A strong Wisconsin line kept the Gophers from advancing more than five yards, and they were forced to punt on the fourth down. Neither team was able to make any marked gain during the first period and both resorted to punting several times.

The Gophers had the ball when the second quarter opened, and on the second play Co-captain Myklebust heaved the forward pass that resulted in the winning touchdown, Koziol making a perfect kick for the extra point. The balance of the quarter saw the ball in midfield, neither goal being threatened.

The Badgers opened the second half with a poor kick which allowed the Gophers to take their first down on their own 40-yard marker. Coach Neesam's protégés staged a great rally in this period, practically all of which was played in Minnesota territory, though the Badgers never came nearer than the visitors' 33-yard stripe. Koziol made an 18 and then a 25-yard run in this period, but did not carry the oval over midfield.

The host team fought desperately during the final period and threatened to score several times, carrying the ball as far as the Minnesota 8-yard line on one occasion. Koziol was usually able to punt the Gophers out of danger, and the final gun saw the ball near midfield. The lineups:

Minnesota	Position	Wisconsin
Vogel	re	Hecker
Sweezo	rt	Christiansen
La Cosse	rg	Schmidt
Pahlgrim	c	Rosenfeld
Sobczak	lg	Perry
Netzloff	lt	Sprague
Starkovitch	le	Hall
Koziol	rhb	H. Boettcher
Shaw	lhb	Krueger
Myklebust	qb	R. Boettcher
Drozd	fb	Kassak

Substitutes: Minnesota—A. Peterson, D. Peterson, Loughlin. Umpire, Schultz; referee, Tall.

The Minnesota School football team was royally entertained by the Wisconsin School for the Deaf staff.

The Pas-a-Pas Club held open house for the twenty-five members of the Gopher squad on Sunday evening, October 11th.

Believe it or not—on the way to Delavan, Wisconsin, the Minnesota School for the Deaf football team saw a horse-drawn school bus loaded with children being driven on a paved state highway.

WESLEY LAURITSEN.

Michigan

Startled, we looked at the calendar to realize that summer is gone; the lawn parties, the picnics, bathing, and boating are just memories. We have not done half the things we planned. My, how times does fly! Fall has arrived! It is time for me to return to the Capital City. Vacation days are ended.

Mr. and Mrs. William Behrendt returned home from their two weeks' vacation at Eagle Harbor, Michigan, last September. They went up on Brockway Mountain in Kenewa County, the copper section and camped at Fort Wilkins and enjoyed the fresh air of pines, hemlocks, spruce trees. They brought home a basketful of rare stones they picked up on the shores.

A reception was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. E. Morris Bristol, on the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage in the rooms of Flint Association of the Deaf on Sunday, October 18th. It was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Smith, Ann Arbor, and the Unique Club of Flint.

Marjorie, an only daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Waters, who spent the summer with them, has returned home to Missouri before her school opens. She lives with her aunt, an only sister of Rev. Mr. Waters.

An old member of the National Association of the Deaf here who has a great heart for the association made a dainty apron which was given to the Chicago Committee to be raffled for the benefit of the convention fund.

With the coming of fall and winter, the members of the Ephphatha Episcopal Mission are already of making plans to work for the betterment of the mission. The young members are asked to lead the march.

An issue of the Silent Call, monthly paper of Ephphatha Episcopal Mission of St. John's Church, is out this fall; fifty cents a year. It will carry very interesting reading concerning the activities of the deaf in Rev. Mr. Waters' field of work. It will help to assist the growth of the mission.

Mrs. Alice LaMotte and daughter of Chicago, were in the town during the first week of September. They were on the "go" with glorious entertainments. They praised the Chicago 1937 N. A. D. committee for their zealous work.

With the assistance of the writer, a pleasant gathering was held at the home of Mrs. Irma Ryan, in honor of Mrs. LaMotte and Miss LaMotte of Chicago, Wednesday evening, September 1st. Twenty-two were present. A game "I know about you" was indulged in and all did their parts to make it a hilarious evening for the guests. Refreshments of ice-cream and cake were served.

Mrs. H. B. Waters and son, Billy, motored to Cleveland during the week-end of September 17th, visiting the exposition. They brought home her mother, Mrs. Sadie Sawhill, who will live with the Waters this winter.

Ephphatha Episcopal Mission of St. John's Church had a gala holiday program at the Belle Isle, September 7th. It was for the benefit of the mission. Over one hundred were present. A big party from the Detroit Association of the Deaf were at the picnic with open pocketbooks.

Games were contested and prizes were given. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tucker of Ohio, were among the out-of-town visitors and captured several prizes.

Refreshments were sold. Outdoor exercise gave all unlimited appetites. There is a large mirror ("usi") on the veranda of the Casino, where the deaf especially enjoyed looking and admiring their funny shapes in the usi. Many of them had their pictures taken by usi.

The Baptist Mission also had a full schedule of events for its members on September 5th, at Belle Isle.

The Idle Hour Club had a glorious day, September 17th, at the cozy home in Royal Oak of Mrs. Isakson, who has hostess. A sumptuous dinner was held after which a new "500" game was contested. It was the best ever. Among the players were Mesdames Allen, Behrendt, Kenney, Brown, Halm, Berry, Hellers, Peard, Colby, J. Hellers and Isakson.

On October 8th, from noon to 5:30, Mrs. Martin Halm entertained the ladies of this club at her home. This club is popular and very interesting.

Mrs. A. F. Heide entertained a party of eight ladies, Mesdames Colby, Lynch, Lobsinger, Behrendt, Wilhelm, Waters, Jones and Hannan, to a "500" at her apartment in the Manchester, Thursday evening, September 18th.

St. John's Episcopal Church which was consecrated in 1860 was moved sixty feet to a new site the night of September 12th, to make way for wider Woodward Avenue. The old chapel where the deaf worshipped since the late Austin Ward Mann preached in the pulpit is now being remodeled. When the copper box placed in 1860 in the cornerstone was opened it was found to contain just what had been put into it.

Two of the most popular points of interest in the Detroit area that will attract one and all are Henry Ford's Greenfield village, The Rotunda and the Edison Institute Mission in Dearborn. The village is open week days from 8:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M. throughout the year.

A housewarming party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. William Rheiner at their new home, September 26th, by their old friends. A delicious lunch was served and a pleasant time was had by all.

The D. A. D. will have a Masquerade Frolic, October 31st, to be held at the American Legion Auditorium 401 West Lafayette Boulevard. Prizes will be given.

The Michigan School for the Deaf opened on Monday, September 13th. Miss Carol Eichoff of Flint, is now vacationing with the Behrendts.

Rev. Mr. Waters opened his fall mission tour throughout Michigan State on September 28th.

Wilbert, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Waters of Royal Oak, who received a diploma from the Michigan School for the Deaf, last June is now at Gallaudet College. He left by bus September 22d. His host of friends here wish him good luck.

The C. A. D. has a new summer home (cottage) called "Happiness House" on Cotton Road near Anchor Bay. It is three miles north of Selfridge Field and about thirty miles from Detroit by the shortest route.

The Ladies' League had a Pot Luck dinner in the Parish House, Friday noon, October 9th. The regular business meeting started at 2 P.M. and a "Salimongade Social" was held in the evening.

I left Detroit October 10th for Washington, D. C. The train stopped at a small junction by the country side in Ohio, where a dark-faced woman (Cuban) stepped into the train which embarrassed me greatly as she wore a frock the same as mine. She was a bright talker, informed me she knew a young deaf lady, Miss Lalla Lee of Iowa, who it is said talks in three languages.

Along the route there were many beautiful and tempting orchards; curious to see that old neglected orchards were preferably occupied by the birds. Upon the fields were tall goldenrod that competed for standing room with the clovers.

Since arriving in the Capital City I have almost forgotten how to start or where to begin.

Downtown shops were crowded with mothers and children buying school clothing, etc. Through the spring, summer and fall my weekly JOURNAL arrived, but no news of the Capital City deaf had appeared, so here I take my pen to keep the Capital City before you. All the deaf are still alive and well as usual.

Mrs. Robert Boswell, who spent her summer with her old friends, the G. N. Donovans in Richmond Hill, L. I., is home now. Mr. Boswell and son, Corliss, motored up and brought her back. She looks hearty and hale.

Professor and Mrs. Harley Drake returned from the New England Gallaudet Convention at Concord, N. H., with a bushel of news.

Mrs. A. Parker and her mother are back home from New Jersey, where they sojourned at Wildwood this summer. Mrs. Edington's health is somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Edington (Mrs. Edric Smith) are back home from their honeymoon in Kentucky.

Albert Holloway of Florida, was in the city recently visiting his relatives.

Rev. Mr. Georg Almo is in Ohio attending the Gambier College. During the week-ends he continues to carry on the work and conduct services everywhere. His friends here wish him good luck.

The aux-Frats of Division, No. 46, will have a big affair in Baltimore, Md., October 31st, at Schange's Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Moore (Lera Roberts) of Overlea, have a new baby.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Duvall returned home recently. Mrs. Duvall, who spent three months traveling in the South, was joined by Mr. Duvall in Richmond for the Dixie Association of the Deaf convention.

Byron Zimmerman is back from his brief vacation to resume his work at the Gallaudet College diary farm.

Rev. Mr. H. L. Tracy, who was present at the convention of the Dixie Association of the Deaf, will be asked to give a talk at the October business meeting of St. Barnabas' Mission.

MRS. C. C. COLBY.

CHICAGOLAND

N. F. S. D. OPEN HOUSE

In spite of themselves, paradoxically, the members of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf now have an office building of their own. The older ones will remember how much talk there was—on and off—that this society should have one; committees were appointed at its past national conventions to see about it; and all agreed that it was out of question to purchase one, or to build it, etc. Then, along came Old Man Depression that literally put that house into the hands of the society, along with a number of other properties in various parts of Chicago and Illinois, through the foreclosure of mortgages held by it, valued at nearly a half million dollars. While some properties were improved and sold at a profit, that residential building at 433 South Oak Park Avenue, Oak Park, quite providentially came when the grand officers were served notice of a rental raise for the space at 201 North Wells Street, their former headquarters. The rental would have amounted to well over $2,000 a year. Arthur L. Roberts, having gained experience as a practical realtor through the management of the properties of the society acquired during recent years, quickly saw advantage in the Oak Park house for the Home Office. He planned out the entire remodeling of this structure and let it to a general contractor.

On Saturday, October 10th, there was quite a full open house. Coming upon this place, one felt a sense of welcome as the front exterior looked inviting, because it was built with yellow bricks and red tile full gable roof, its windows showing venetian blinds; the front entrance double doors footed with three ornamental steps and bright with triple nickel bars across. Inside was an imposing main office, with a long file of new desks and chairs. Everyone bore a regular bouquet given by contractors, Chicago No. 1, and Mr. Fogg of New England.

The walls are all oak wood, and the floors of two stories covered with waxed linoleum of dark conservative patterns. On the whole, there is an agreeable solidity about this place, and one would not be surprised if it could be sold easily in the neighborhood, which is a gradually changing from residential to business. However, it is probable the Home Office will keep it indefinitely, considering what it is.

All those who will come to the Chicago 1937 convention of the N. A. D. should not miss the Home Office by any means. It will be a treat, to say nothing of the fact that it is insulted all over against heat and cold, in all seasons. You can rest assured that Arthur L. Roberts leaves nothing to be desired.

Chicago is back in its old stride with bowling for the deaf. Every Monday night Chicago Bowling Club, consisting of six teams, roll the ball at 70 West Madison Street, third floor, starting at 8:15. The officers are Gordon Rice, president; Louis Massinkoff, vice-president; Frank Bush, secretary-treasurer; Walter Werner, Ed Szotowski and Henry Bruns, auditors.

Mrs. Ellen Healy announces the coming marriage of her daughter to Vito Joseph Vallone on Saturday morning, October 24th, at 10 o'clock, in Saint Bartholomew's Church, 4932 West Addison Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thiele and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leise all had an automobile accident, Saturday night, October 3d. They all were badly hurt, but presumably will recover before long.

Out-of-town folks should not come to the thirty-fifth birthday banquet of Chi-first Frats, unless they have already written and secured a ticket from Chairman Louis Masinkoff, 841 North Sacramento Street. The Sheridan-Plaza Hotel has arranged for but 250 plates, and from the way tickets are selling, it appears the supply is inadequate. This friendly hint will prevent friends from coming a long way only to be disappointed.

Starting at 8 o'clock on the dot, Saturday, November 14, the banquet will be followed by over three hours of speeches, songs and ceremonies. This gathering of the pioneers of frandom will see speeches by Washington Barrow and Oscar Pearson, certificates 8 and 11; Mrs. Pearson, widow of the first president of the first division; Ira Kellar; John H. Geary, hero of Armageddon, 1905; and Arthur Spears of Racine, the only son of a grand charter-member in our ranks. Mrs. Francis P. Gibson, widow of the "Miracle Man," will make her first appearance in deaf social life since our great leader died. The affair will end with presentation of souvenirs to the Old Timers.

President Arthur L. Roberts and Secretary-Treasurer Charles B. Kemp will speak for the Grand Division. A sign-singer of phenomenal calibre will render original songs to drum-accompaniment—her first appearance in Chicago. J. Frederick Meagher is booked as the toastmaster—the post he filled at the Silver Jubilee banquet of 1926.

For the Maurice Fahrs, farewell parties were given at the Kondell and Knoblock homes, October 4th and 11th. This charming and popular couple expect to leave shortly to make permanent residence in California.

Ladies of the six Kane County cities will stage an afternoon card party for the Home for Aged Deaf on the George Morton estate in South Elgin, November 22d. This they style the "Abbe De l'Epee Pilgrimage," honoring the 224th birthday of the pioneer teacher of the deaf. Prizes also go to the oldest married couple, the newest married couple, and the person traveling the longest distance. Mrs. Edna Carlson is chairman.

Several car-loads of Chicagoans attended the football game in Delavan, Wis., where Minnesota trounced the Scarlets 7-0, October 10th. Among car owners may be noted L. Massinkoff, Mr. Powers and Martin Lowe.

MINNESOTA 7, WISCONSIN 0

In a mud-puddle pell-mell, the football team of our Wisconsin School for the Deaf was out-slipped, out-skidded and out-soaked at the dedication of Wisconsin's new field, October 10th. This field is a reconstructed cow-pasture adown the hill abaft that picturesque Delavan dell, and is unique in that Football Coach Frederick J. Neesam himself sweated as he swung pick and shovel aiding in its construction. Imagine the First Vice-president of our two-million dollar National Fraternal Society of the Deaf soiling his honest hands in ditch-digger pursuits.

Seems when great men are bitten by the athletic bug, they will go to any lengths—even to digging a ditch!

A cloudburst the night before the game left the field as soggy and slippery as a pail of grease, so little except straight football was possible. Teams evenly matched, averaged around 149 pounds; "breaks" of luck about evenly divided. The only boy showing possible Gallaudet-greatness was the Minnie quarterback, Joe Myklebust, standing 6:3 in his sox, using above-par brains, and having a tremendous stride which might have meant touchdowns on a dry field. He has two hearing brothers teaching in the Iowa and Tennessee schools.

Myklebust proved he has courage. In the closing moments of the game, Wisconsin rallying like tigers, it was Minnesota's ball, second-down, a yard from the Minnie goal. Keen strategy would call for the giant Myklebust to protect his lead—and ground the ball behind the goal line for a safety, giving Wisconsin two points (but giving Minnesota the ball on their 20-yd. line, first down). Instead, he elected to punt the slippery oval in the face of a bitter winter wind. Sure enough, the wind downed the ball on the 25-yard line; the Badgers started a hurricane rush to the Swedish goal; seemed about to make it when—bang—the closing gun sounded.

Alas for the day when our football revolved around juicy Irish names like Fox, Berg, Long, Andree, Deer and Moore. Minnie's roster was studded with Starkovich, Koziol, Sobczak, Drozd, Phelgrim and Sweezie; and Wisconsin's with Tryggstedt, Boettcher, Rosenfield, Walswick and other Klucks.

At the evening dance, following the game, J. Frederick Meagher of the All-America Deaf Board of Basketball made formal presentation of beautiful certificates to such basketball stars as made the grade the past two seasons—including a belated National Deaf Championship award to Wisconsin, 1934. This proved a most impressive ceremony. Rightly handled, the All-America awards may become the greatest nation-wide impetus for good sportsmanship and sterling character-building devised yet.

Sunday and Monday following the game, the bus-load of Minnesota boys, with Messrs. Boatwright, Lauritsen and Lindholm in charge, saw the sights of Chicago; an educational tour well arranged, with printed itinerary studied in advance. This would be a godsend to any school's extra-curricular scope. Sunday night Chicago actors gave an enjoyable "show" at the historic Pas-a-Pas club,

Los Angeles, Cal.

What was perhaps the prettiest little wedding it has been our privilege to attend, took place on Sunday evening, October 11th, when Miss Anita Klein of San Francisco, became the bride of Irving S. Auslander. The wedding was private, only relatives and several close friends being present at the ceremonies. Mr. Joe Greenberg acted as interpreter.

Another wedding performed was that which took place two days before, when Miss Helen Smith was married to Mr. Earnest D. Holmes of San Diego. They left immediately after the ceremonies for a honeymoon trip to Yuma. They will live in San Diego, where Mr. Holmes holds a responsible position.

At the dance given by the C.C.D. on October 10th, Mrs. Clarence H. Doane won the first prize of $7.00. And thereby hangs a tale. When the Bank-Nites were first inaugurated Mr. Doane was the first winner of record, and he came to the club only because Mrs. Doane urged him to do so. This time matters were reversed; Mrs. Doane felt indisposed and positively refused to come, and it was only after repeated urgings that she finally consented to do so. Verily, the little god of chance doth labor in most unexpected ways.

Recent visitors at the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Blanc of Richmond, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. D. Beamish and Mrs. Elizabeth Frye, all of Visalia, Cal. Once again the little god of chance did the unexpected, for he favored Mr. Blanc with the $5.00 bank-nite prize, and this his first visit to the club. Mrs. Jessie Nolen and Art Newman won third and fourth prizes, but were absent, so forfeited same.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cope celebrated their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary on October 8th, with a swellelegant time. Their son and daughter-in-law helped them at it.

The sister of Mr. J. B. George died of a heart attack while she was on her way to pay a call at his house. She was 74 years old. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the family of the deceased.

Last week we had the pleasure of announcing that a seven-pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tyhurst. This week we wish to inform all and sundry that the baby is already teething, in fact already has one, and another coming. Next week we'll probably be telling you that he is walking. This is the miracle age, you know.

Journal Publicity Helps

To the Editor:

The article "Notice to the Deaf of America," which appeared in your paper again scored a victory over the local WPA officials.

A young deaf man, while working on a WPA project here in Kansas City, was called back to his old job at the Cudahy Packing Company. Before he left the WPA he was given assurances that he would be taken back on the WPA without difficulty in case he was laid off by the Cudahy Packing Company.

Recently he was laid off by the packing company. He went to see the WPA officials and asked for his job on the WPA. He was curtly told "nothing doing." The writer interceded in his behalf by going to the court house with him and showing the article from the JOURNAL to the WPA officials who, with much reluctance, had the young deaf man put back on the WPA.

Proof as to the value of the article may be obtained from Charles Parker, 1614 Wyandotte Street, Kansas City, Missouri.

For its second victory over the local WPA officials, the JOURNAL has right to crow louder and longer.

More power to the JOURNAL!

PRESS announcement has been made that S. A. Doran is preparing a new production that will soon make its appearance on the stage. It is entitled "The Inner Silence." The action takes place on Prince Edward Island. The principal role is that of a deaf-mute girl, of scant education, and who has been cruelly wronged. For this role, as well as that of the leading male character, the author, Mr. Elmer Harris, in his desire to be exact and true to life in the presentation of the deaf-mute girl's case, has given considerable thought and study to acquiring a knowledge of the language of signs as used by educated deaf people. In this he is being ably seconded by Mr. Harry W. Gribble, who is to direct the play.

To be as near correct as possible Mr. Harris consulted Dr. Percival Hall, President of Gallaudet College, and upon his suggestion met a number of Gallaudet graduates in New York from whom he received expositions and illustrations as to the use of the silent language in his play. From the painstaking attention which Messrs. Harris and Gribble are giving to this production, particularly to the role to be played by the actress who personates the deaf-mute girl, and that of the male actor representing the physician—the staunch friend and final savior of the girl—we believe that this play will serve a most useful lesson to people who have an obscure idea of deafness and of those who lack the sense of hearing. At its presentation in New York and other large cities we bespeak a large attendance of the deaf, their relatives, friends and all interested in them.

A BILL was passed by the New York State Legislature at its last session, and signed by Governor Lehman, becoming effective July 1st, requiring doctors and nurses to report to the State Department of Education all cases of deafness in children that come to their notice.

From the accompanying copies of communications of Mr. William M. Lange, Secretary of the Empire State Association of the Deaf, the deaf of New York have evidence that the Association is functioning in their interests, perhaps an omen that "Happy days have come again."

September 10, 1936

HON. HERBERT LEHMAN
Executive Chamber
Albany, New York

Honorable Sir:

This past summer you signed a bill, which, becoming effective July 1st, required doctors and nurses to report to the State Department of Education all cases of deafness in children. The Education Department, in turn, is to notify the parents of these children of the educational facilities available to them.

The Empire State Association, in convention assembled, in Binghamton, N. Y., August 21st to 23d, voted unanimously to adopt a resolution thanking you for signing this bill and making it a law. Please be assured that each member, when so voting, did so with full sincerity.

It is a sad fact that many deaf children reach maturity without any educational advantages, merely because their parents knew nothing of the educational facilities open to them. This bill will do much to alleviate this evil and will give to the deaf world many fine intellects it would otherwise have lacked.

Again, be assured of the deep appreciation of the Empire State Association of the Deaf.

Very respectfully,
WILLIAM M. LANGE, JR.
Secretary.

Governor Lehman sent a reply, on September 16th, as follows:

My dear Mr. Lange:

I am in receipt of your letter of September 10th, advising me of the resolution adopted by the Empire State Association of the Deaf assembled at Binghamton, August 21st to 23d.

I was very happy indeed to be able to secure the enactment of the several bills aiding the deaf and hard-of-hearing of our State. I have, for a very long time, been deeply interested in the subject. I had the feeling that the State has not in the past fully discharged its duty towards its unfortunate blind and deaf. I believe that the bills passed at the last session of the Legislature will be helpful to our children who are deaf or hard-of-hearing.

Many thanks for your courtesy in writing to me.

Yours very sincerely,
HERBERT H. LEHMAN.

Of the Normal students, Grace Rowell is the twin sister of Alice Rowell, who graduated from last year's normal class, and who is now connected with the college teaching staff. Both sisters graduated from Farmville State Teachers College, Farmville, Va. Grace taught in a High School in Virginia for two years before coming to Gallaudet to study for her M.A.

Elizabeth Baughman of Hustonville, Ky., is a distant relation of Robert Baughman, who received his M.A. as a normal at Gallaudet in 1934. Elizabeth was graduated from Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., while Robert was graduated from the University of Kentucky.

William J. McClure comes from Westminster College, Fulton, Mo.

N. F. Walker was graduated from Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C. He is the brother of the superintendent of the South Carolina School for the Deaf.

James R. Kirkley also graduated from Wofford College and taught in the South Carolina School for four years before coming to Gallaudet. In addition to his Normal course, he is on the college teaching staff as assistant professor of mathematics.

Jack Swain of Centre College, Danville, Ky., was connected with the Kentucky School for the past two years.

Clayton H. Hollingsworth received his B.S. from the South Georgia Teachers College. He has been superintendent of the Emanuel County Institute since 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Davis are the proud parents of a seven-pound two-ounce baby girl, Nancy Lee, born at 11:44 p.m., October 1st. "Jaybee" is an ex-'37, while Mrs. Davis is the former Katherine Havens, '34.

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Saturday evening, October 10th, at the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind Hall, under the auspices of the local P. S. A. D., Carl M. Bolner, of Altoona, gave an illustrated lecture on Cuba, where he spent a two weeks' vacation last August. It was very interesting and instructive, made so by Carl's keen sense of observation. He has a "barrel" of pictures of European countries which he visited in recent years, and that being the case, the local branch is contemplating the purchase of a radioptican. Anyone who can entertain with such pictures and give interesting talks relating to them is an asset to any community. It is our good fortune to have one.

Andrew W. Zeber, a lifelong Pittsburgher, passed away September 15th of heart failure. The remains were viewed at Samson's funeral home and burial took place the 18th. Mrs. Zeber has moved to Chicago, where she expects to make her home with her daughter and family. Mr. Zeber was a member of Division, No. 36, N. F. S. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wickline, of Akron, with their three children spent a week recently with relatives here. Mrs. Wickline was Myrtle Zelch before her marriage and attended the Edgewood School, so they took in the Alumni reunion. Much concern was felt about Dennis' health as he was known to have been ill for nearly a year, but judging from his sprightly step and vigorous waving of hands he has apparently regained much of his former strength. He is back with the Good-year Company but has been placed at some lighter job.

Mrs. Agatha Tiegel Hanson has been in this city, her birthplace, for over a month and expects to remain until spring. She is enjoying the company of her many relatives, one of whom lives next door to the writers, and, of course, makes most of the opportunity of renew old friendships among the deaf. Because of her pleasing personality, the charming lady is fast making new friends who will be sorry when the time comes for her to return to the far west. Saturday evening, October 3rd, the Holliday domicile was the scene of a little party in her honor. Those invited were mostly old school friends, who brought back pleasant memories of the past.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to William T. Uren, School for the Deaf, Columbus, Ohio

Many old-timers will be sorry to hear of the death of George Kihm of baseball fame. The late Mr. Kihm was a pupil of the Ohio school back in 1891. During his school days he was an athlete of no mean ability, leading many of our teams to victory on the diamond. Up until his marriage he was a boxer; during those days, boxing was a far different thing than it is today, the padded boxing glove being a thing unknown.

After his marriage he entered the baseball game in earnest and played for an Indiana team. He was transferred to the Columbus Red Birds and played for the Columbus team for three years as first baseman. During his stay with the Columbus team, 1916 to 1919, they were the league champs twice. Mr. Kihm died at his home in Delphos from stomach complications on October 9. He leaves besides his widow, four grown up children. Mr. Kihm was in Columbus three years ago as the guest of the management of the Columbus Red Birds on the opening of the new Red Birds Stadium.

Mr. John Fryfogle paid a week-end visit to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Merz of near Amanda.

Mr. Henry Hartard took his nice new car out of the garage and took Prof. Winemiller to Wapakoneta for the week-end to visit the professor's uncle. While the professor was swapping jokes with his uncle, Mr. Hartard visited Mr. and Mrs. Harley Gortz, and Ed. Burke.

Mr. Herbert Wade spent the week-end visiting his mother in Delphos. He took William Murphy along with him, so the later could visit his family as well. Mr. Uren was in Zanesville visiting his wife. She is improving wonderfully and the doctor hopes to release her from his care during the early months of the new year. At first the doctor ordered a year of rest and care on the farm, but Mrs. Uren has improved a lot faster than expected.

Mr. Warren Shaffer, the school painter, is another of the Columbus deaf who experiences the enforced bachelorhood. After the death of his father last winter he had to move his family to stay with his mother so that he could settle the estate of his father. The Shaffers now make their home in Glenford and Mr. Shaffer stays in Columbus during the week and spends the week-ends with his family in Glenford.

Mrs. Bertha O'Brien was a visitor to the school one day last week. She was our storekeeper last year, but resigned last June because of an expected addition to her family. Mrs. O'Brien brought the baby along with her. It is a husky girl and touched the scales a ten pounds.

Mr. Emory Wood has been at the home of his sister for some time, awaiting an operation on the nerves of his neck. There is something wrong with his neck, and been since he was a child. The trouble caused his head to shake continuously, and lately it had got worse until Mr. Wood found it very difficult to eat and shave. Finally a doctor was visited, and he proposed to operate to correct the fault. After consulting with specialists about the operation, the doctor changed his mind. Mr. Wood is near 50 years of age and the complaint has been with him since childhood. The risk of such an operation was too great, and the chances of success too small. Mr. Wood will soon return to the Old Home.

The Columbus Ladies Aid Society are now working hard on the arrangements for the social and play to be given at the school on the fourteenth of November. The play is given by the Akron players and is called "Safety First." The social will open the program, and the play will start about 8 p.m. When the play is over the visitors can return to the social and eat to their hearts content. The proceeds go to the Old Home.

The month of October is certainly full of events for the Ohio deaf. On the 17th, we have a football game between the Indiana School for the deaf and the Ohio School. We have a masquerade ball in Cleveland, a Husking Bee in Columbus, and another Masquerade in Toledo. Akron will have a masquerade party. Cincy also will hold a masquerade on the 31st, but I am not sure.

Mr. Everett Rattan is now in Columbus under the management of the Quality A. C. He wrestles in various cities in Ohio. He made one appearance in Columbus recently against a smart wrestler named Hall. The match lasted for half an hour and resulted in a draw. Mrs. Rattan is staying in Kansas City while Everett makes this tour. She wanted a rest after barnstorming with Everett for over a year. They quite recently returned from Mexico, and Mr. Rattan gave a fine descriptive talk of his tour at the social held after the meeting of the Frat last month.

Mr. John Fryfogle, while on his vacation tour out west, grew a Mongolian moustache and a Van Dyke goatee. On his return to Columbus very few of his friends recognized him. He had his picture taken and then shaved his hairy adornments off. This week's Chronicle had a picture of him as he looked when he returned from his vacation, and poor John has been the object of much fun ever since.

The Akron Beacon Journal was ablaze with the picture of Miss Rachel Gleason and William M. Mattix with the Mayor of Akron on September 5. The reason was their wedding ceremony. It was the first time the Mayor of Akron had performed a wedding ceremony for a deaf couple, thus the publicity. An interpreter was used. Mrs. Mattix is a graduate of the Ohio school, while Mr. Mattix is from the Kansas school. They have our congratulations.

Mr. John C. Whitehead of Huntington, West Va., was a visitor in Columbus Saturday. He came up to see the Ohio-Pitt. game but gave up the idea when he was told that tickets were scarce. However, he made good use of his time by seeing officials of the Frat, concerning affairs of the old disbanded Huntington division. The members of the old Huntington division were transferred to the Columbus division.

Usually when the Ohio State football team loses a game there is always a little bitterness after the game, and the "down town coaches" talk of a new coach.

But after the Pitt-Ohio game there was a general agreement that the Panthers deserved to win. Gov. Landon witnessed the game. There were 75,000 fans there as well, one of the largest crowds the state has played before.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grimm left Akron on October 12 to make their home in Washington, D. C. Mr. Grimm was appointed to the position in the Department of Engineering.

The classes for auto drivers did not turn out so well last week, owing to torrential downpours of rain. There were 7 present, but nevertheless Mr. Jacobson went ahead with his talk. He spoke on the psychology of the driver. It was indeed a fine lecture, and those who witnessed it certainly benefitted by being present.

The Columbus Division, No. 18, have marked down three new members on their roll call. They are Max MacCallie, Frank Boldizar and Ray Stallo. Now these unfortunate individuals are going around with worried looks on their faces, as the Frats are planning an Initiation Smoker for next month. Mr. Boldizsar is grinning however, as he is far away and safe in Gallaudet College in Washington, so his initiation will have to take place some other time.

Professor Greener paid a visit to the school last week accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. R. P. Thomas. He spoke a few words to the writer and reminded him that he had written for the JOURNAL for near forty years and was glad to see a young lad carry on. Certainly, my dear professor, we youngsters must carry on, but how we need young men like you once were. My writings may be all right to some, but to me they are very poor examples compared to what you used to turn out.

SEATTLE

Mrs. John Adams of Renton, directed the Ladies' monthly luncheon, October 8th, at the residence of Mrs. Pauline Gustin. With various foods on the menu, four tables of bridge, a bridal shower, birthday presents, prizes and a superb day, a very enjoyable time passed. Mrs. Robert Travis, a charming young bride of two months, received numerous home made jellies, jams and canned fruit which surprised and pleased her. This part was contrived by Mrs. N. C. Garrison. Mrs. Adams' birthday, beginning on the 9th, her friends brought her nice and useful articles. Mrs. A. H. Koberstein and Mrs. Fred Wise took prizes at bridge.

The depression has left us and the Seattle deaf are enjoying life. Thanks to President Roosevelt for his courageous attitude. Two deaf ladies' names were added to the old age pension list this month and they radiate happiness.

Mrs. Elmer D. Talbert of Gooding Idaho, returned home after two months' visit with her two sisters living on the same street as ours. A day prior to her departure Mrs. Talbert's married sister served a delicious luncheon in her honor for a few friends. Those present were Mesdames Partridge, Brown, Gustin and Wright. After pleasant conversation and a game of "500," Mrs. Partridge was presented with a cute little gift for highest score. Mrs. Talbert's eye is much better after taking treatments here. Next time her husband will probably accompany her to our city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bodley enjoyed the sights at the state fair in Puyallup recently. They said the fireworks exhibition at night was unusually beautiful.

The minute Jack Bertram reached Detroit from Seattle he secured employment with an engraving firm. He is stopping with his sister and brother-in-law. His many friends miss him and his cheerfulness. Mr. Bertram's daughter, Marion, took leave of absence from her work at King County Hospital and went to St. Louis, Mo.

A. K. Waugh is at present assisting his brother in the apple harvest in Oregon. His daughter, her husband, and their four adopted children invaded his home after they sold their brick house at a good profit. Seattle is starting to boom.

Carl Spencer, a barber, is working in a shop here. His brother looks after his shop in Montana, while Mr. Spencer learns about this Charmed Land.

Mr. and Mrs. Claire Reeves were delighted to have the former's brother and sister-in-law from California with them at their Kent farm. Driving up here they picked up Mrs. Charles Lawrence in Vancouver, Wash. Mrs. Lawrence, also a sister of Mr. Reeves, remained a little longer before taking a bus for home.

Mrs. Reeves' mother, Mrs. McGuthrie, left Swedish Hospital, improved after a recent major operation.

George Oelschlager of Alderwood Manor, stayed one week longer than intended in California, his first visit there, and he thought the sunny south a wonderful country to explore. He was away three weeks from his and his brother, Harry's chicken ranch.

Because of unsteady employment in a tailoring concern Miss Anna Sperry left Seattle for Spokane, her home. We are sorry to lose her from our circle.

John Adams' thirty relatives and friends in Renton gave him a surprise birthday party, October 7th. Bridge with prizes, gifts and eats occupied the evening. John's 90-year-old father and mother were among the merry-maker.

Rev. W. A. Westerman is in the east, attending the board mission's annual conference. As it was his plan to visit his wife in Nebraska, there are no services in Seattle this month. Mrs. Westerman has been looking after her mother, stricken with a stroke since last August.

Mr. and Mrs. True Partridge had eight friends at their home last night playing bridge till midnight, at which John Adams and Mrs. A. H. Koberstein won nice prizes. The hostess served a fine luncheon in the dining room, two items being hot tea muffins and delight salad, which were delicious.

Grace Bodley, a 16-year High School senior, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bodley, was chosen by her teachers to act as assistant editor to the school paper, clerk of the honor society and manager of 200 girls in a hiking class. Here is some girl to be proud of.

Miss Alma Adams wrote to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, that after her graduation from the Mayo Hospital in Rochester, Minn., a position was offered to her. She is one of the night nurses.

After several years with Macy's in New York City, Mrs. Alberta Boutette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright, has accepted an offer to be assistant art director in the advertising firm of Lord and Taylor.

Empire State Association of the Deaf

Communications pertaining to the Empire State Association of the Deaf should be sent to the Secretary, William M. Lange, Jr., 57 Dove St., Albany, N. Y.

Special Attention

With the laying of plans for coming legislation in behalf of the deaf of New York State, it is necessary to prepare data to strengthen our position and render our efforts all the more effective.

The E. S. A. D. wants every local organization in the State of New York to communicate with its secretary, sending him the following information: Name of organization, objects, location, number of membership, approximate number of deaf in their locality, their secretary's name and address, also any other information that may be considered useful; such as number of deaf auto drivers, average number of accidents in a year and whether there is any discrimination against the deaf.

Upon receipt of this data depends the action to be taken, so everyone is requested to cooperate and make an effort to send in as much complete information as would be considered of value. Also to find out from their organization secretary if they have complied with this request.

To have every organization in New York State behind us would insure, to a great extent, the success of our undertaking. Let everyone make it their personal duty to become active and help improve conditions pertaining to the deaf in our State.

Future comments regarding plans and activities of the E. S. A. D. will be published in this paper and we ask that you keep on the lookout for them.

HAMILTON

There was a good attendance at the service in Centenary Church on Sunday, October 11th, when Mr. Gleadow gave an interesting and appropriate Thanksgiving sermon. Mr. Gleadow quoted many texts throughout the Bible, in which we are told to give thanks to God, and pointed out that very often things go wrong with us when we omit to thank God for blessings already received. Visitors included Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Newell, Mr. Norman Yeager and Mr. Haist. Messrs. Rosnick and Peikoff dropped in after the service was over.

Mr. Harry Grooms will take charge of the service on October 25th, instead of 18th, as scheduled.

A Hallowe'en masquerade and social will be held on the 24th of October, in the Pure Milk Co's Hall, John Street N. (Same place as last year).

Mr. Norman Yeager of Windsor, saw an advertisement, in a border city paper, several weeks ago, for a man wanted for a position in the Dominion Glass Co.'s place in Hamilton. He applied for the position and got instructions to meet representatives of the company at a Windsor hotel. He was found to be suitable and was told that if he could be in Hamilton at 8:30 on Monday morning, he would get the job. Mr. Yeager had been out of work for some time, but seems to have plenty of "pep," for he hitch-hiked his way to Hamilton and arrived just in time to start work! He likes Hamilton and hopes to bring his wife and family to live here later on.

Miss Marybella Russel of Ailsa Craig, recently became the bride of Mr. John R. Newell of Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell spent the week-end in Hamilton, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor and attended the service in Centenary Church on Sunday, when their friends were pleased to meet and congratulate the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell will make their home in Ailsa Craig. All their friends hope that their married life will be a happy and prosperous one.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harris had quite a house full of visitors on Sunday; Mr. and Mrs. Paterson of Galt; Mr. A. Haist of St. Catherines; Mr. Dolby, and earlier in the evening, Messrs. Rosnick and Peikoff of Toronto, also called, and as Jim Matthews, Jack Harrison and Arthur McShane also dropped in, there was quite a party.

Arthur McShane, who has been boarding at the home of Mrs. Manning since his mother's death, will shortly make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harris.

Miss Peggy Gleadow motored with friends to Toronto on Saturday and had a very enjoyable time. She called to see Miss Doris Grooms at the Eaton store, where she is employed, and had a short visit with her.

Miss Dorothy Adam was recently elected first vice-president of the girls' Bible Class of St. Peter's Anglican Church. She just missed being president by one vote.

Miss Monica Breen has been spending a week with relatives in Toronto.

The Sewing Club held the first meeting of the season, on Wednesday evening, October 14th, at the home of Mrs. Carl Harris, when about 14 members were present. Mrs. Breen, the treasurer, read the report, which showed a satisfactory balance from last season.

Much to the regret of the members, Mrs. Harris resigned as president of the club, but said she would still be with us and attend the meetings as often as possible.

As a result of the ballot taken, Mrs. Johnston was elected president, and Mrs. Breen was re-elected treasurer for 1936-37. Serving of dainty refreshments ended a delightful evening. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Taylor on Wednesday, October 28th.

TORONTO

We regret to report that Miss Laura Elliott had a bad stroke, to which she succumbed in St. Joseph's Hospital, at the age of 74 years. Our sympathy goes out to her brother and sister, Mr. Charles and Miss Eva Elliott.

Mrs. Bradshaw is back in town after a lengthy stay in Peterborough.

Miss Carrie Buchan has been playing tennis with a group of young people at a local church, throughout the summer months and to crown it all she copped the ladies' singles tournament. On Sunday, October 18th, Carrie will be presented with a silver cup by her teammates at an early morning breakfast in the Parish Hall.

The Misses Lucy and Carrie Buchan started the fall and winter party season rolling with a delightful euchre and dance party at their home on Saturday, October 10th. The parlor and dining room were gracefully decorated with Hallowe'en festoons and trimmings.

Miss E. Sole and Mr. J. Angus won the ladies' and gents first prizes of a vase and pencil.

The hit of the evening was the spot dancing, which was won by Mr. and Mrs. Robertson. After a delightful supper, the guests went home at a late hour with many a stretch and yawn. Every one present voted it a grand affair and want more like it in the near future.

The Frats are holding a Hallowe'en party on Friday, October 30th, so don't forget to come and bring your costumes, as there will be prizes galore.

The event of the season which is being anxiously looked forward to will be the Frat dance and euchre to be held Friday, December 11th, in the Royal York Hotel. Tickets $1.00. Come in your boiled shirts and evening dresses and bring your friends.

Miss Lucy Buchan has received a call from the Manitoba School for the Deaf in Winnipeg. She is taking the place of Miss Lonsdale, who died quite recently. We are all proud of her here and wish her the best of luck.

On Tuesday, October 13th, a lovely farewell party was tendered Miss Lucy Buchan by Mr. and Mrs. John Buchan at their home on Westmount Avenue. Lucy was surprised and delighted with the pretty gift of a bathrobe, which she received from her friends and takes this opportunity of thanking all her well-wishers for their kindness to her. She leaves for the West on Thursday, October 15th, and expects to arrive in Winnipeg on the 17th. We all wish her "Bon Voyage" and the best of luck.

LONDON

The weekly Sunday services reopened on Sunday, September 13th, after a two months' interval.

The picnic held at Springbank Park on Labor Day was a successful event. The weather was just right and a large number of people attended. The fun started soon after noon and may sports events were run off in the afternoon. Charles Ryan was the starter and gave a good deal of satisfaction.

Mrs. Fred Crawley of Toronto, spent a short time with friends here recently.

Seven pupils left London on Wednesday, September 9th, for Belleville. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pincombe was the scene of a happy event when the couple celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. All members of the family, and many friends were present. A dinner was served by Mrs. Harry Zavitz, daughter of the couple. Mrs. Pincombe, before her marriage, was Miss Nancy Sours, and was born in Northfield Centre. Mr. Pincombe is a native of Lobo Township. The couple were married in Brantford, and their family consists of six children. They received many useful gifts.

Miss Mary Bull, who has been in St. Joseph's Hospital for a number of weeks, has left to live with her niece at 261 Regent Street, London. She will be pleased to meet friends who may come to the above address.

A telegram reached here on Thursday morning, September 17th, from Windsor to the effect that Mrs. Geo. McDonald, aged 68 years, died on Wednesday, September 16th, after a lengthy illness. She was formerly Lillie Bryce and resided in London. She is survived by her husband and two children, Belle and Bryce. Our sympathy goes to the family.

Edward Hall of Toronto, spent Labor Day in London with his wife.

Several of the deaf are talking of going away at Thanksgiving, to turkey or chicken dinners. An eight pound boy was born on Sunday, September 27th, to Mr. and Mrs. Merton McMurray, Ingersoll. Congratulations.

Mr. Norman Gleadow of Hamilton, conducted the service to a well attended gathering on Sunday, October 4th. His topic was "Thanksgiving." Richard Pincombe, 77 years of age, of 21 Emery Street, who with Mrs. Pincombe celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, October 3d, suffered severe head injuries, injuries to his right arm, and shock when he was struck by an automobile at Emery Street and the Wharncliffe Road at noon on Sunday. Mr. Pincombe was taken to Victoria Hospital in the police ambulance, where X-rays were taken to determine whether or not he suffered a fractured skull. His condition on Sunday night was reported as serious. The automobile, the police say, was driven by an American woman of Detroit, Mich.

The inspector of the Provincial police, who investigated, stated that the driver was not driving fast. Mr. Pincombe was struck by the right side of the machine. The accident occurred a few yards outside the city limits. His condition is now slightly improved.

Arthur Cowan is now in the new $1,000,000 Federal Building after working in the old postoffice for thirty years.

Miss Margaret McLeod of Toronto, visited relations and friends in the city recently.

The first social of the season will be held at the Cowan residence on Saturday evening, October 31st. Everyone is invited.

KITCHENER

We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Newell upon their recent marriage and wish them all happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, Sr., were in the town for a few days recently, staying with a friend and paid some of their friends surprise calls.

We are sorry to hear of the accident to Mr. W. Hagen's son, Bert, who, as a result, will be in hospital for about three months and has to have a plaster cast on his body.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Golds and son, Bob, motored to Shakespeare to call on some old friends there and then went on to Stratford to attend the Roberts service on Sunday, October 4th.

The following is from a Pembroke newspaper:

"Bert Hagen, 18, of Kitchener, is in the Pembroke Hospital, suffering from a fractured pelvis and head injury received when an automobile in which he was a passenger turned over four miles west of here Sunday. Alfred Johnson of Sudbury, driver of the car, escaped with minor cuts and bruises. He had picked up Hagen while on his way to Calabogie. The car skidded on the wet pavement, turned over and landed in the ditch."

Special Employment Service for the Deaf

In New York City three schools for the deaf, New York School, Lexington School and St. Joseph's School, maintain a Special Employment and Vocational Counseling Service for the Deaf. This service is in cooperation with the New York State Employment Service at 124 East 28th Street, New York City. Miss Margarete B. Helmle, the Special Representative, is in charge.

Office hours are Monday and Wednesday from 9 to 12 A.M. and 2 to 4 P.M., also Fridays from 9 to 11 A.M., without appointment. Appointments may be made for other days by letter or telephone. If you are working and wish to talk about your job with Miss Helmle, she will be glad to see you after working hours, by appointment.

Miss Helmle will be glad to consult with any deaf person needing assistance in employment, work problems, vocational training advice, or any other problem you may wish to discuss with her. She may be able to help you settle misunderstandings and difficulties regarding your work, salary, or any other troubles that may need adjusting, so that you will be able to keep your job.
